GENEL TRANSPORT offers transportation services tailor made to life sciences organisations for their temperature controlled and time sensitive shipments of specimens, blood, tissue, infectious materials and live animals. It offers door-to-door seamless transportation and supply chain management in dry-ice, ambient and temperature controlled boxes in Australia, New Zealand, the Americas, Africa and Europe. It is a complex logistics operation that requires deep understanding and planning, not only of imports, shipping and handling but also of the complex international regulatory standards.

Pharma products enter a complex supply chain that involves several steps and handoffs from the clinical trial materials collection to final product distribution. Pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies follow strict standards for packing, labeling, transportation, storage and documentation, particularly when shipping biological or hazardous materials. In the life sciences sector, logistics has become a strategic issue due to market share declines, margin erosion, value chain cost inefficiencies and regulatory compliance requirements.

GENEL TRANSPORT

ROAD PERMISSION AND ESCORT VEHICLE

There is no precise and unique definition of the oversize cargo. This is due to the multiplicity of forms which that kind of cargo has, including heavy lifts, overwide, overhigh units and cargo, which exceeds axle load. Their parameters differ from each other, which effects in the multiplicity of means of transport engaged in the oversize transport. Sometimes even specially designed to transport a particular type of oversize cargo. There are also special handling installations (terminals, factory sites, ports and docks) for oversize transport.

IT COULD BE SAID, THAT IN ALL CASES "OVERSIZE" DETERMINANTS ARE:

- Cargo dimensions
- Cargo weight
- Available cargo space on the vehicle
- Permissible pressure and stress on the loading surface
- Permissible stress on surface of road

No matter what type of cargo you have and vehicle you are using GENEL TRANSPORT is at your disposal to obtain road permission from State departments and provide your vehicle and driver vehicle escort from entry point to arrival or exit point in Turkey.

INSURANCE

Marine insurance covers the loss or damage of ships, cargo, terminals, and any transport or cargo by which property is transferred, acquired, or held between the points of origin and final destination. Cargo insurance is a sub-branch of marine insurance, though Marine also includes Onshore and Offshore exposed property, (container terminals, ports, oil platforms, pipelines), Hull, Marine Casualty, and Marine Liability.

We strongly recommend all our shippers to obtain proper insurance cover for their business and we help getting the required policy.
